2. Details of applications open for consultation

Esso Petroleum Company, Limited (Esso) is proposing to undertake some minor works in Ashlett Creek, Fawley. The proposed works involve the maintenance of a short section of seawall, approximately 7 m in length, and the installation of a small gabion structure (immediately adjacent to the seawall). As a proportion of the works will take place below mean high water springs, including access (on foot only) to the foreshore to complete the works, a marine licence is required. Therefore, ABPmer was commissioned by Esso to produce an environmental appraisal to support the marine licence application.

Oceanic Woolston are currently developing the former Vosper Thornycroft Site and waterfront at Woolston, Southampton.

As part of the redevelopment it is proposed to construct a marina in line with the accepted use of the area.

In order to undertake this a dredge will be required to re-establish suitable operational depths. These are less than the depths previously dredged when Vosper Thornycroft berthed military vessels.
